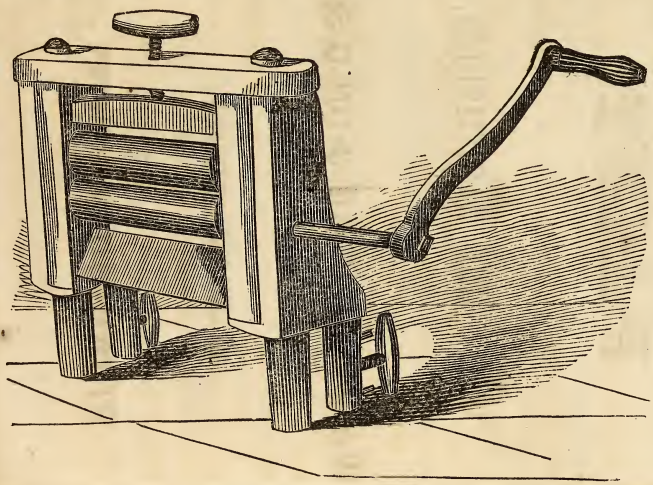
BAY STATE CLOTHES WRINGER.



THERE is no article one can take into his house costing five and a half or six dollars that will be of so great a benefit as a BAY STATE CLOTHES WRINGER. Wet blotting paper may be wrung dry one hundred times without tearing. It will save its cost in cloth in eight months, to say nothing of time or strength. Iron frames, galvanized or painted, will rust the clothes after a while. Such improvements have been made in it as to render it the best Wringer, in the opinion of those who use it, also of the Agricultural Society, who awarded a "Diploma" for it.

One will be sent to any part of Cambridge free of expense, and if not liked, after a trial of two weeks, may be returned and the money refunded.

PREFACE.

THE first number of the CAMBRIDGE DIRECTORY was published in January, 1847. It was a small pamphlet of only seventy pages. The present volume, the twelfth number, contains nearly three hundred pages. A period of two years and a half has elapsed since the preceding issue. In this time the changes of residences of Cambridge citizens have been much more numerous, in consequence of the war, than during any preceding period of the same length. In some cases, more than thirty additions or corrections have been made upon a single page, and the average has been more than half that number, which has involved more than the usual amount of labor in the preparation of the work. The changes which take place while the information is being collected, and before the printing is completed, render it impossible to secure entire accuracy in such an undertaking.

Goodspeed 2.50

One of the improvements now presented consists of a NEW MAP OF CAMBRIDGE, drawn from actual surveys, by Mr. J. G. CHASE, Civil Engineer, of this city, and engraved by Messrs. L. PRANG & Co., of Boston. It contains the names of all the new streets, and the locations of all the public buildings are designated. We believe it will be found the most reliable and useful map of Cambridge which has ever been published.

The list of streets has been revised and made to conform to the map. And in this connection we take the liberty of suggesting that it is to be regretted that in some cases the same name has been given to more than one street, which often misleads strangers and others who have occasion to search for particular places. We have endeavored, as far as practicable, in describing localities, to do so in such a manner as to obviate the difficulty arising from this cause.

We have been much indebted to Justin A. Jacobs, Esq., our excellent City Clerk, for assistance rendered in compiling this work, and particularly for the list of CAMBRIDGE SOLDIERS, which was furnished by him, and which will be found valuable for reference.

In submitting to the public the result of our labors we deem it proper to state that we have been at great expense and have bestowed much time and care on an effort to supply the want which has long been felt, of a new DIRECTORY OF CAMBRIDGE.

July, 1863.

REPRESENTATIVES TO THE GENERAL COURT FROM CAMBRIDGE, FOR 1863. — Charles F. Choate, P. Francis Wells, and Knowlton S. Chaffee.

CAMBRIDGE SOLDIERS.

CAMBRIDGE claims the honor of having raised, in response to the proclamation of the President, the first Company in the United States which volunteered for the suppression of the existing rebellion, of which Company Captain James P. Richardson was the commander.

In November, 1860, Captain Richardson predicted war with the South as the result of the Presidential election, and called upon his fellow citizens to back their ballots with their bayonets. For this purpose a Company was formed in January, 1861, and they tendered their services to the Governor, who gave them the earliest opportunity to go to the war.

The President's proclamation was dated April 15, 1861, and two days only elapsed when Captain Richardson, at the head of ninety-five men, marched from the law office of the commander, through Main Street to Boston, embarked on board the steamer "S. R. Spaulding," and proceeded to Fortress Monroe. They sailed under sealed orders, and when they started knew not their destination; but they were willing to go wherever duty called, and wherever the government required their services.

In looking over the roll of this Company, it appears that every commissioned officer has been promoted. The Captain is now a Major, acting as Colonel; the First Lieutenant is a Major; the Second Lieutenant became a First Lieutenant; the First and Second Sergeants became Lieutenants; and there were also promotions of other non-commissioned officers, and from the ranks. Of the whole number three only have been killed in battle, so far as is known; two have died of disease; fifteen are now at home; fifteen are in the army; one is in the naval service; and of the remainder we are unable to give any account.

We have given these particulars in regard to this Company, because they serve to indicate, in some measure, what is or probably will be the history of the other volunteer companies raised in Cambridge.

The list below, in most cases, simply gives the name of each soldier and the Regiment to which he is or has been attached. It will be the duty of others, when the war closes, to trace these soldiers into their various subsequent positions.

We confess we are proud of this record. Cambridge has always been represented in the front rank, when patriotism has been appealed to. She was represented in the opening scenes of the Revolution, and at Baltimore on the 19th of April, when rioters undertook to prevent the march of the federal troops for the protection of the Capital. She has promptly filled all her quotas when volunteers were called for, and she has peaceably submitted to a draft when the government thought proper to command the services of her sons.

We do not deem it necessary to apologize to our patrons for occupying so large a space in this work for this ROLL OF HONOR.

Volunteers for Three Months.

MILITARY ORGANIZATIONS.

The Washington Home Guard of Old Cambridge was organized Sept. 23, 1861. It held meetings in a hired hall till May 12, 1862, when it took possession of an armory built on ground leased without rent by Harvard College, and erected by a joint stock company, composed in part of members of the Guard and in part of other citizens. This armory is eighty feet long by forty feet wide, and is one of the best in the State.

The Guard made its first public parade May 29, 1862. Since its organization one hundred and fifty-two individuals have belonged to it, for longer or shorter periods, and it has recruited at its armory a full company for the Forty-Seventh Regiment.

The present number of active members is seventy.

The officers are as follows: —

Captain, Isaac Bradford; Lieut., Wm. Gibson; 2d Lieut., Nathan G. Gooch; 1st Sergeant, Wm. T. Gibson; 2d, R. L. B. Fox; 3d, J. P. Wallace, jr.; 4th, B. F. Rollins; 5th, J. G. Gooch; Corporals: Samuel Dorr, jr., S. P. Shepherd, B. F. Wyeth, F. C. Foster. Clerk, W. P. Atkinson. Treasurer, W. B. Bartlett.

Besides its military, the company has a civil organization as a club, which has for President, Hon. Emory Washburn; Vice-President, M. T. Bigelow; Secretary, W. P. Atkinson.

CAMBRIDGE RESERVE GUARD. — At the suggestion of several gentlemen of Cambridge, a call signed by nine influential citizens was published in the Chronicle, of Sept. 13, 1862, inviting the men of Cambridge, over forty-five years of age, desirous of preparing themselves to aid in upholding the government, and, if need be, in defending their homes, to meet at the City Hall, to form a company for learning the military drill and the use of arms.

The result of this call was the organization of the "Cambridge Reserve Guard."

A Constitution and By-Laws were adopted, and the following officers chosen: viz., a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, Treasurer, Armorer, and a Finance Committee of five. About one hundred persons gave their names in favor of the formation of such a corps. Eighty have signed the Constitution and become members.

The military officers of the guard are chosen once in three months. They were first elected Nov. 6, 1862. The present officers are: — Captain, Asa Bullard; 1st Lieut. John S. March; 2d Lieut. Thomas G. Rice; Sergeants, Alanson Bigelow, George W. Colburn, E. M. Dunbar, J. C. Wellington, and Chester B. Grover; Corporals, J. A. Willard, L. B. Grover, A. H. Hews, and J. F. Folsom.

The present officers of the Association, who are chosen annually, are as follows, viz.: — President, John C. Dodge. Vice-Presidents, John S. Ladd, George Livermore. Secretary, John S. March. Treasurer, J. C. Wellington. Armorer, Samuel F. Hunt.

Persons thirty years of age and upwards, and those exempt by law from military service by their professions, are now admitted as members of the Guard. The present number of active members, including a drummer and a fifer, is eighty-five. Seventeen gentlemen who have signified their willingness to aid and encourage the "Guard" by the payment of five dollars a year, are termed honorary members.

Measures are now in progress to provide a suitable armory, and it is hoped ere long that a full company of one hundred men will be enrolled.

The Guard meets for drill every Monday evening.
